

A book about cats... and typefaces

Various authors. The Cat's Meow. Frankfurt am Main: Bauer Type Foundry, 1961. Softbound.

A charming little book about charming little creatures, The Cat's Meow was printed by the Bauer Type Foundry for its New York supporters and showcases some of the company's typefaces. The book reproduces five short literary works about cats by authors including Rainer Maria Rilke to Adlai Stevenson, each page in a different font. It also includes fourteen woodblock prints by German illustrator Günter Stiller. The book is in mint condition and includes its original black envelope.

It is difficult to say which have quirkier personalities, the fonts or the cats.
